PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Threatening Indian Troubles.

San Diego, Oct. 11.—Late advices from Temecula show that the Indian difficulties are by no means over notwithstanding recent reports to that effect. Olegario with his band, are collected in that vicinity holding conferences. People in that vicinity are again becoming alarmed. Gilbaum Bros., merchants at San Luis Rey and Monserrate have ordered goods for the latter place to be sent to San Luis Rey and in a letter to forwarding merchants say: No telling how the Indian difficulty may end, therefore we deem it advisable not to ship any more goods to Monserrate. A gentleman connected with the Union office who came in from that vicinity last night says Goldbaum, Alvirado and other old settlers are all ready to leave on a moment's notice. Others have brought their families to the thickest settlements. Runners are going between the Aguangas and Coahuillas. Should they join him in the event of an outbreak it would be a bad time to trifle. It may bring on a collision and war would be the result. Those citizens who have lived here for years insist that troops should be sent into that district of country without delay to maintain peace, until the government can make suitable arrangements to maintain an Indian agent. Dryden has just returned from there, and says the danger of a conflict is not and cannot be passed until something can be done by government for the Indians. Olegario is a bad Indian, and has great influence with his people, and refuses to listen to any councils. He wanted the agent to put the Indians back on the ranch where they were, and keep them there. When Dryden told him he had no power to do this he was very angry and talked badly. Mr Dryden also says he cannot exaggerate the danger and believes a conflict cannot be kept off for any length of time. It is liable to occur at any moment.

THE YEAR'S WHEAT CROP

London, Sept. 18.—Mr James Caird who is supposed to be a great authority on agricultural questions has just published some interesting calculations as to the wheat crop of 1875. He shows that the fall in the prices of wheat last year was followed by a reduction of 300,000 acres in the breadth of wheat or nearly one tenth of the total wheat crop in the United Kingdom and that there has generally in other countries been a diminished area of wheat. This year the harvest in this country has been three weeks later than last year and its introduction to the market a whole month later and Mr Caird calculates that allowing for the surplus from last year little more than eleven months' consumption will now have to be provided for until the next harvest comes round. This is 22,000,000 quarters altogether half of which we have at home and the rest must be got from abroad. From Russia and Germany a liberal supply may be expected. There is also a good stock to be drawn upon in France, and the farmers are holding back for higher prices. Mr Caird says the chief apprehension is in regard to the supply from the United States and Canada. From that source during the past three years we have annually received between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 quarters or considerably more than half our total imports. Should this fail in any material degree we might be pinched. About 1,000,000 quarters of the old crop are reported to be available for export at the principal points of accumulation in the Eastern States on the eve of the present harvest. In California the crop of this year is reported to be short and is not expected to afford more than another million quarters for export. He adds that he has private advices from Chicago to the effect that the yield will be 5 per cent short of last year and even a loss of a bushel an acre on such an immense breadth of wheat, would be a serious thing. The continued warm weather here must be very beneficial in giving backward crops a chance of ripening.

REEDVILLE FARM

A NEW FARM PRODUCT—12 SHEEP TO THE ACRE OF LAND—BLOODED STOCK—PARTICULARS OF SOME OF THE FINE CATTLE, HORSES AND PIGS OF THE FARM

Reedville Farm, Oct. 9, 1875.

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Among the many attractions at Reedville there is one I should like to call the attention of stock raisers to especially wool growers. It is to the cultivation of rape. Rape although heretofore unknown to Oregon, is widely used in Great Britain and the Australian colonies as cheap food. It is unsurpassed by any other feed for the production of wool and mutton of high quality. In no way can you make prime mutton at so low a figure as by the use of rape. It is admirably adapted for the recruiting of aged or sick sheep and for the weaning of lambs. Flush your ewes on it for two or three weeks previous to letting the bucks to them and I will guarantee you, with proper care at lambing time, an increase of from 160 to 180 per cent.

In appearance the leaves of rape resemble rutabaga or Swedish turnip. It has no bulbous root—the roots and fibres resemble cabbage searching the soil in depth to about twelve inches. It derives its vitality largely from the moisture of the atmosphere during night, as the leaves are found always in the morning hanging with heavy dew drops, in a great manner supplying the stock with water as well as to enrich quality for the dry summers of Oregon.

The profits in rape culture are great, and nowhere can I conceive it of more inestimable value than in the state of Oregon where the grasses in summer are a total failure. As yet no substitute of importance has been found for the grasses. It can now be found in rape.

Mr S G Reed, who is ever foremost to do what he can for the promotion of agriculture in Oregon resolved to experiment on it this last summer. The result was a complete success. Seven acres were sown on the first week of May in drills 32 inches apart, at the rate of 3 lbs to the acre. In six weeks after it was sown long, wooled sheep were turned onto it at the rate of eight to the acre, and in addition to them about twenty large Berkshire pigs on the seven acres. Up to this date they are still to be seen on it. Sheep and pigs are rolling fat the former bearing a marked difference in condition and general health to those that did not have the benefit of the rape feed. On the 12th of July another ten acres were sown on a piece of fallow—sown broadcast. I saw it two weeks ago and notwithstanding the excessively dry and hot summer, the crop is most luxuriant. The average height of the plants is now three feet beautifully green and healthy looking and I am positive from experience in the colonies that it will carry from 12 to 15 sheep per acre during the winter. What other production have you that can do that? As soon as the plants are eaten down, remove your stock and rest it and in a few weeks it is sufficiently grown to receive them again. This you repeat as often as you please. Instead of fallowing why not sow your fallow lands in rape. Sow in drills thirty two inches apart, so that you can plow, subsoil and cultivate between the rows, producing a crop that will carry 12 sheep to the acre. Figure on this and compare the difference of the profits in fallowing with rape and the old-fashioned slovenly way that is too much practiced by merely scratching the ground, cultivating a few annual weeds and fern. Suppose the field to be a 50 acre one. On an average you will have one starved sheep per acre to keep down the annual weeds and your land only rested but in no other way enriched. On the other hand by rape following instead of one starved sheep per acre you will have at least 12 full fed ones or in other words instead of 50 sheep to 50 acres according to the old system the land will carry 600 by the introduction of rape. The annual weeds will be kept under control, the soil will be protected from the scorching rays of the summer's sun by the foliage of the plants, the profits on your stock will be enormous either from the increased weight of wool, mutton, beef, pork, milk or butter and yet the profits do not rest here. Think of how your lands will be renovated and restored under such treatment by the tons of solid and liquid manure that will be deposited on them. Look also to the additional bushels of wheat and oats you will grow the following season under such treatment and also of the general improvement of your live stock, both in condition and constitution. Farmers try it on a moderate scale to begin with and I feel certain you will like all of those who have grown it this last season, see its great advantages and determine to continue it. Rape is excellent feed for cows and calves, only be careful not to allow them to remain too long on it for the first few days till it is thoroughly through them otherwise they may be effected with hove or swelling. Rape is also an excellent substitute for cabbage at your private table during all seasons of the year. Now is the proper season to sow for next year's seed. Keep stock off it and you will reap from 15 to 20 bushels of seed per acre by the first of June next year. The plants will then be from five to six feet high. Rape can be sown at all seasons of the year to advantage, it will undoubtedly prove to be one of the most valuable introductions as stock feed ever brought to the state and by its use a great and cheap fertilizer will be found for our exhausted soils. We have to thank Mr Reed for giving it a fair trial and bringing to light its valuable qualities before the farmers of Oregon. To Mr Withycombe present superintendent of Reedville, are we indebted for introducing the seed from England to this state. We understand Mr Withycombe's price to be one bit per pound making a cost of 37½ cents per acre for seed. So much for rape.

A few words for the stock for they are truly deserving of it. The shorthorn herd looks exceedingly well all healthy and thrifty among them are to be found a number of choice animals all of most reliable blood and fashionably connected. Members of the Isabella or Medora family the Red Roses, Waterloo Glosses and Gwynnes, are all beautifully represented at Reedville. At the head of the herd stands that very grand and all conquering bull Lord of the Valley undoubtedly the best bull on the Pacific coast. Lordly he looks and lordly he is and I will say fearlessly we have not only the best bull of his breed on the Pacific but in him Oregon can boast of having a bull that I believe to be unsurpassed in the states, a bold expression but I stand by it. In blood he is a combination of the celebrated Isabella and Strawberry families that have stood invincible on the British fair grounds for generations in the hands of the Booths. His great quarter [illegible] from shoulder to rump is literally packed with the [illegible] house steaks [illegible] not an ounce of coarse flesh has he [illegible] character and [illegible] his superiority [illegible] is wonderfully in the [illegible] and his qualities as a sire are all apparent in the excellence of the young animals that are got by him at Reedville.

[illegible] the dam of Lord of the Valley never forgets to present her owner with something really handsome every spring [illegible] fortunately [illegible] family of [illegible] they are [illegible] fine bull [illegible] grand representative [illegible] breeding [illegible] son he being [illegible] the Lord of the Valley at [illegible] of his [illegible] at all times when [illegible] have a sound constitution [illegible] blood [illegible]

There are three beautiful and valuable specimens of the Waterloo family, Weeping Willow [illegible] heifer calf Weeping Witch [illegible] fair grounds. These three animals are closely connected with Water Flower and Water Lily two cows sold on the 27th of last August at Lord Dunmore's sale Scotland making an average of £[illegible] each. They are all directly descended from Mr Whitaker of England's Waterloo cow by Waterloo a proud and valuable connection for the Reedville herd. The Glosses are well represented, as will be seen from the exhibition they make at the State Fair this week. There are also some handsome Gwynnes one in particular, Pet Gwynne III, a perfect gem, but I am sorry to say is not to be on exhibition although undoubtedly one of the very best animals at Reedville. The young things—principally the get of the Lord of the Valley—are all comely sweet and attractive showing great constitution and character like their noble sire grand specimens of the most beautiful of all animals the high-bred and handsomely formed short horn. I hope farmers may learn to value them more than they apparently do that they may become educated as to their real worth, and that more farms may soon spring up in our state. Five things are necessary for success, a little cash, good blood, food, comfort, and a thorough knowledge of your business. Dispense with any of these and failure is the result; combine them and success is your just reward. It is interesting to study John Thornton's (of England) short horn circular and see how closely allied members of Mr Reed's herd are to the leading pure, winning animals in Great Britain often reducing them to brother and sisterhood.

The Cotswold and Leicester sheep look healthy and vigorous. Those that have been allowed to luxuriate on the rape plants all summer are heavily fleshed. Both classes represent in every feature the high standard of their breeding.

The Berkshire pigs are a grand sight. Romford Beau is lord of the harem. He is a splendid specimen of his family. He is sired by the Earl of Clairmont a celebrated boar Victor and out of the all conquering Romford Belle who stood champion in 1871 in England Canada and America. The stock by him are very superior. The brood sows I have never seen surpassed.

We will next notice the horses. Let us begin with the gallant Young Marquis—Achilles of Oregon draft horses. He is a splendid specimen of a Scotch Clydesdale stallion. Although at the end of the season he never looked fresher or more blooming. His weight at present is about 1,900 lbs. Many a farmer looks forward with delight to seeing his Marquis colt next spring. Time will soon pass on and his fruits will be brought to light, we know not be disappointed in them. On his stock from short-legged, roomy Oregon mares we will have exactly the description of horses required by the Oregon farmer. In all Mr Reed's importations, perhaps Young Marquis is the most valuable, he has arrived in the country at the proper time, just when such a horse was wanted, just when we have begun to plow a little deeper and require substance as well as blood in our farm horses. The imported Clydesdale mares have fine foals at their feet, and are now safe in foal to Marquis. The result will be a satisfactory one. In them we will have a number of pure Clydesdales in the country, as well as half breeds. To secure the latter we must have the former.

The beautiful Autocrat looks gay and springy—trot all over. He has, like the other made an excellent season, and doubtless will be the sire of many valuable colts next year in Oregon.

Reedville assumes its usual tidy appearance. Everything has a place and everything must be in its place is the motto and it is strictly acted up to.

Representatives of all the various breeds connected with Reedville will be on exhibition at the state fair. I am glad to learn that a good deal of opposition is expected from British Columbia. Let them come. Welcome them. Appoint competent judges and let the best win. I do not fret as to the result. I still expect to see the blue ribbon flaunting on the sweet faces of the Reedville short horns.

NORVAL

LETTER FROM CAPT SIMPSON

Portland, Sept. 18, 1875.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Mr Reid's letter to the Oregonian of 17th inst is calculated to give wrong impressions (though I have no doubt not intended) and therefore I consider it my duty to reply. It is my fault that his letter was not answered by Capt. Flavel. That gentleman and myself came from Astoria to Portland to meet the board of trade and talk the matter over, but there was no meeting and we did not succeed in finding him. The first day he handed the letter to me requesting me to answer it as he said I was equally interested with him in the tugs Astoria and Brenham. I put the letter in my pocket and being called to Astoria the following day I forgot it but intended to answer on my return.

I will now say that it has been and still is the policy of Capt Flavel not to enter into newspaper controversy and hence he has never answered any newspaper attacks and will not in the future. There has never been anything but an earnest endeavor to do the best that could be done on the Columbia river bar and that still is the case and will be as long as we continue the towing business, and no unreasonable charges will be made nor any illegal ones, but on the contrary we do the work both on the bar and river cheaper than it is done for equal services in any other port in the country and very much cheaper than in several of our principal sea ports, and we may also include some foreign ports. The Columbia river is free navigation open to the world and competition is pretty sharp so that commerce will not suffer we think. Our tugs are for sale at a valuation by competent parties and I for one will be very glad to step out and give others a chance to suit better, and I think I can say the same for Capt Flavel. We have never made any unjust, unreasonable or illegal demand we think and if by any mistake of any party it has been done it will not occur again if we can help it. Mr Reid seems to be of the opinion that pilotage and towage is all one which is a new idea to us, but we can regulate that without any trouble and in the future we will avoid as much as possible that and all other causes of complaint. But we are aware that to growl at tugs is the rule everywhere and therefore we do not expect to steer clear of it. We tow cheap, we watch close to get every vessel we can and as quick as possible and then to get them out as quickly as possible with safety. For the sooner we get rid of them the less expense to us in running after them and the sooner we get the money. We deny emphatically any and all the complaints that have ever been made against the tugs Astoria and Brenham and aver that the utmost vigilance [illegible] consistent with safety has prevailed at all times [illegible] at whatever hour [illegible] the pilots that any one [illegible] it has been [illegible] actions and [illegible] than half right and [illegible] wrong and exactly calculated [illegible] Anybody [illegible] and go into the [illegible] but it takes a pretty good [illegible] proper time and [illegible] for not having [illegible] bars from Coos Bay to Shoalwater bay [illegible] one half [illegible]

In conclusion I will [illegible] the concluding article in Mr [illegible] that shippers will [illegible] by tugs in this river [illegible] will [illegible] charges [illegible] when [illegible] that as the vessels come here [illegible] better than they [illegible] to San Francisco and [illegible] at Vallejo [illegible] they are entirely wrong in charging these people five to seven dollars per ton more which they have been doing all along. We must have a law at once to fix this thing.

Very respectfully, A. M. SIMPSON

A prodigy [illegible] stealing something.

Circuit court was in session at Canyon City on the 3d with work enough before it to last two weeks.

Rev J C Kirkman pastor of the Methodist church at The Dalles, has arrived at his post of duty from Kansas.

Oregon Presbytery will meet in Salem in the Cumberland Presbyterian church Thursday 14th inst at 7 o'clock P M.

The new buildings for church purposes being built by the Methodists and Episcopalians, at Pendleton, are both nearly finished.

The taxable property of Umatilla county amounts to about $3,000,000 in value. The tax levy this year is 21 mills on the dollar.

The Masonic Lodge at Gervais has just erected a new building which will soon be completed, and will be quite an ornament to the town. The upper part will be used as a hall by the lodge and the lower part will probably be occupied as a drug store.

Mr John Cox and party while out prospecting last July on the head of the Santiam and Clackamas rivers discovered a hot spring on the head of the latter stream. The water of this spring is supposed to contain valuable medical properties, and is hot enough to cook with.

Mr J M Densmore came into Salem last week from the vicinity of Quartzville where he has been prospecting for several weeks. He brought down about two ounces of gold dust, which he sold. Mr D has found placer diggings that will pay about 15 cents a pan and intends returning after the state fair.

Amongst the institutions at Monmouth, none is more flourishing nor promises better results than the Sunday school of the Christian church. An energetic working superintendent with an earnest corps of teachers is making the school so attractive that not only the children but men and women are taking part in the classes.

The Plaindealer is informed that Mrs Cora Young wife of Wm Young of Myrtle creek, met with a horrible death, on the 8th by a falling tree. The tree fell across her legs, mangling her in such a manner that she died in a few hours. She has only been married to Mr Young a few months. Her maiden name was Willett. Her parents are late of California.

About two weeks ago while a party of Warm Springs Indians were hunting in the Upper Crooked river country, one of the party came across a large grizzly bear. He got down from his horse and taking aim, shot the bear but not sufficiently to hurt it much. The bear after receiving the shot made directly for Mr Indian who finding he could not escape, drew his knife and pitched into the bear rough-and-tumble. After a long and hard fight the Indian succeeded in killing the bear, but not until he was mortally wounded himself.

THE TERRITORIES

The damage by the burning of a car on the Walla Walla railroad last week amounted to about $1,000.

In default of bail, Thos. Lenchen is in jail at Walla Walla on a charge of selling liquor to an Indian.

Mrs George Smith living nine miles from Walla Walla, was thrown from a horse last week and had her leg fractured.

A man is building a mill at the old ferry on the Spokane. There have never been 5,000 bushels of wheat raised in a radius of 30 miles from the site.

J H Montgomery a photographer of Walla Walla was assaulted and badly beaten at that place on Friday night of last week. No clue could be found to the perpetrator.

In the Idaho World of October 5th it is announced that the paper will hereafter be conducted by Messrs Heman and Chas. E Jones, the former acting as business manager and the latter as foreman. The name of A J Boyakin appears as editor.

The total area of Washington Territory is 44,[illegible]6,160 acres of which 11,700,952 acres have been surveyed. During the two years ending June 30 1875, there have been surveyed 3,2[illegible] 141 acres of public lands and 204,144 acres of Indian reservations.

Washington Territory exported during the year ending July 31 1875 products of the total value of $750,2[illegible] of which $550,000 was in American vessels and $200,[illegible] in foreign vessels. The lumber exported in that time was 3[illegible],000 feet valued at $3[illegible],000. The value of foreign imports was $4[illegible]

The entries of public lands in Washington Territory during the two years ending June 30 1875 amounted to [illegible] acres as homesteads 101,[illegible] acres as preemptions [illegible] acres as private entries and 1,05[illegible] acres as coal lands. The N P R R Co sold [illegible] in the same time 131,[illegible] acres of land in that territory.

The Vancouver Independent says: Captain Tales and family met with an accident on Thursday last while coming up the river road which well nigh proved most serious. At that point in the road near the farm of John Smith where the space between the fence and the bank of the river is very narrow, his horses and wagon went all at once tumbling over the bank. The captain was precipitated headlong from his seat into the branches of a fallen tree, the wagon was upset and all the occupants more or less injured. The captain was quite seriously bruised.

The Walla Walla Spirit says: The wheat can only go forward as fast as the boats can take it away. The O. S. N. Co will not receive it only as they can work it off. The railroad company have no store houses at Wallula [illegible] any very great quantity were they to receive it any faster than the boats can take it off it would have to be handled twice to get it on board the boat. This would be a heavy tax on the company were they to receive it any faster than they do. And shippers do not wish to bear the expense of extra handling and storage too. The wharf boat only holds what the boat can take at one trip, and no amount of hurrying will avail anything in getting it off.

STATE FAIR

Fifteenth Annual Fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

Fair Grounds,
Salem, Oct. 11, 1875.

THE GRAND OPENING

The morning of the first day of the fifteenth annual fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society opened with a heavy fog hanging over this part of the country, but gave every indication of pleasant weather. At an early hour everybody was astir, preparing for the campaign, the busy hum of conversation mingled with the sound of the carpenter's hammer while the shout of the hack drivers was answered by the familiar whistle of the locomotive.

At an early hour the

CLERKS WERE SET TO WORK

In making entries and issuing licenses and the secretary informs me that there have been more entries made up to late Saturday evening than at any other fair. There is also an unusual number of stock entries and agricultural implements.

THE GROUNDS, BUILDINGS, ETC

As for campers they are very numerous, while a great many have built themselves, in some instances, substantial little houses or cottages thus making the grounds look like a small village.

The society has erected booths with system, and they are all occupied this morning, while restaurants can be found in almost any direction, consequently there will probably be no cases of suffering for want of good and substantial food. There will be

NO LACK OF AMUSEMENTS

As on every hand there is being erected swings, Wilson's circus tents, menageries, while Wood's Museum, from your city, occupies a large and commodious building, where he will probably reap a golden harvest.

At 11 20 the train, consisting of five passenger cars, well filled, arrived on time and was quite an accession to the crowd.

Hon C P Burkhart, one of the Centennial committee to collect articles for exhibition at Philadelphia next year, has quite a collection in the pavilion to exhibit, so as to encourage others to contribute to that laudable object, and that gentleman stated that he meets with much more cordiality than was supposed by the committee on their organization.

At 11 o'clock the racing season of the fair was opened by a

MULE RACE,

Three hundred yards, purse $1 50 (one dollar and fifty cents). Littleton Younger named black mule, and James Lewis bay mule. At the outcome the black was about fifty yards ahead but it was evident that Mr Lewis was too heavy, consequently he challenged his opponent for a 600 yards race, for $2 50, and obtained the loan of a boy to ride for him. The race came off with the following result: L. Younger, black 0; J Lewis bay 1; clearly showing that bottom and blood will tell. The race afforded an immense amount of amusement to the crowd, if it did not demonstrate first class speed.

At 2 o'clock a

RUNNING RACE,

Mile heats, best 2 in 3, purse $100, with the entrance money of $50 even, added, for Oregon raised horses, untried making the purse $250. G G Glenn named bay stallion Capt. Jack, J F Bybee named bay stallion Yakima, and Wm Tompkins named sorrel mare Alpha.

First heat—The horses were in fine condition and got off in good style with Yakima a very little ahead; but inside first quarter Alpha ran ahead in first position, but soon dropped back and continued to do so until her friends were uneasy that she would be distanced, but at the last quarter post she rapidly closed up the gap and came in in fine style. Capt Jack, 2 Yakima, 1 Alpha, 3 Time, 1 56½.

Second heat—After the second turn the horses got off in fine style and inside of first half mile the race was reduced to Yakima and Alpha, who kept close to each other to the three-quarter post when the excitement became intense and culminated with Yakima winning the heat and race by a neck. Time, 1:56. Yakima, 1; Alpha, 2; Capt. Jack, 3.

Thus closed the first of the society's races for the season, and it is evident that it was upon the square and the horses were run to their speed.

The receipts at the gates and for entries are large, and the prospects very flattering for a large attendance and exhibition.

IN THE PAVILION.

Henry Miller, Mr Pfunder and L W Morgan have commenced to fill the portion of the pavilion allotted to them with their floral collections, and the exhibition promises to be the best ever before brought to this place, but in several particular specimens they will meet with sharp opposition, and will probably not be allowed to carry away all of the premiums.

THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT

Is rapidly filling up, and the display will undoubtedly be good. As for photographs, paintings, drawings, etc, the collections promise to be good, but I will speak more fully of them when the different committees get to work.

There is going to be a large display of

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY,

And among them several entirely new articles of great utility, especially those introduced by D M Osborn & Co, of Auburn, N Y. They have made arrangements to have them run by steam, thus showing the practical workings.

The following are the

NUMBER OF ENTRIES

Division A cattle 58; division B horses, class 1 17, class 2 3 and 4, 62; class 5, 6 and 7 6; division C sheep 30; division D swine and poultry 15; division E, farm products, 26; division F plows —; division G Oregon manufactures, 18; division H, domestic manufactures 11; division I, dairy products 6; division J woolen manufactures, 15; division K, bread cakes, &c, 21; division L millinery, sewing, knitting &c, 284; division M, misses under 14 years 31; division N, misses under 12 years, 9; division O, boys under 14 years, 7; division P, fruits 31; division Q garden products 10; division R, flowers, 45; division S natural history, mining, &c, 43; division T equestrienne, 2; division U wild animals 8.

Receipts for licenses: Hacks number 67; booths number 5—112.

Total receipts for entrances for premiums since 9 o'clock over $6,000. Gate is approximated at $3,000.

TUESDAY'S PROGRAMME

The programme for to-morrow is: Opening address at 10 30 A M.

At [illegible] P M all entries close. Members of awarding committees will report themselves at the office of the general superintendent at 12 M when all vacancies will be filled by the vice presidents and superintendents of the respective classes.

Running—At 2 P M running for Oregon bred 3 year olds, horse, mare or gelding, mile heats, 2 in 3. First premium $[illegible]; 2d premium $[illegible]; 3d premium to save entrance.

The assessed value of property in 14 counties in Washington Territory is $8,[illegible] less in 1875 than it was in 1873. In eight counties the assessment of 1875 is $1,[illegible] greater than in 1873.

WASHINGTON TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE.

Fifth Biennial Session.

Olympia, Oct. 8, 1875.

House called to order at 10 A. M. by the speaker. After prayer by the chaplain, the journal was read and approved.

A petition was presented by the [illegible] of [illegible] Co., praying that a portion of [illegible] be attached to the county of Wahkiakum. The [illegible] was referred to the committee on [illegible] with instructions to report by bill.

Mr Hodges presented H. M. No 1, praying for removal of obstructions in Columbia river.

The memorial shows that Washington Territory is divided by the [illegible] range into [illegible] and Western Washington. That the estimated quantity of wheat that can be raised in Eastern Washington is 20,000,000 bushels per annum. That the [illegible] for exportation this year will exceed 1,000,000 bushels. That the natural and universally [illegible] outlet for the product of this portion of the territory as well as those of N W Idaho and [illegible] is by way of the Columbia river to the Pacific Ocean. That obstructions to navigation exist at the [illegible] and Dalles on said river. That such obstructions are a serious burden to the people of Eastern Washington and retard settlement and [illegible]; the market price of wheat at present at Walla Walla is 45 cents per bushel, while at Portland, Oregon, a distance of only 280 miles by water, it is $1 per bushel, making a difference of 55 cents per bushel, which falls on the farmer. That the report of Brig. Gen. Michler shows that these obstructions can be removed by the construction of short [illegible] and locks at an expense of $1,500,000. [illegible] people would be benefited by the removal of obstructions.

The memorial, after a third reading, was [illegible]

Mr Ferguson introduced H M No [illegible], [illegible] the establishment of a postal route from [illegible] to Snohomish City. Read three times and passed.

Mr Foster introduced H B No, 8 an act to provide a system for common schools. The bill is a very lengthy one and appears to me to [illegible] everything [illegible] for the [illegible] of a very superior school system in this territory. It was read twice and referred to the committee on education with instructions to have 100 copies printed.

H B No 9 by Mr Karr, to prevent the indiscriminate sale and use of poisons. Read twice and referred to judiciary committee.

H B No 10 by Mr Miller for the protection of sheep in Island Co. Read twice and referred to committee on agriculture.

Mr Houthit introduced H. B. No. 11, an act to amend an act regulating the practice and proceedings in civil actions. Read twice and referred to judiciary committee.

Mr. Lloyd introduced H. B. No. 12, which was an act defining the rights of husband and wife, approved [illegible] 14, 1873. The bill was read [illegible] and referred to the committee on judiciary, with instructions to have 50 copies printed.

H B No 7, relative to the [illegible] in Island county, was read a third time and passed, title agreed to.

The committee on printing reported that, in accordance with their instructions, they had invited bids for the incidental and other printing, as referred to in yesterday's proceedings, and had accepted the bid made by E. H. [illegible] as being the lowest. On motion the report was laid on the table and made the special order for [illegible] next, at 11 A. M.

The speaker announced that he was ready to sign C B No 1 (Olympia [illegible] tax bill).

The committee on counties, finding [illegible] rather laborious, were instructed to [illegible] the amount of compensation [illegible] for the employment of a clerk.

During the session Governor Ferry, Secretary Struve and Judges Jacobs and Lewis visited both houses of the legislature, and remained [illegible] in each.

It was moved and carried that the [illegible] invite the council to unite with them as a [illegible] of the whole in visiting the penitentiary on McNeil's Island, the insane asylum at Steilacoom and the territorial university at Seattle, on [illegible]

A message was received from the council to the effect that C. J. R. No. 3, had [illegible] for the appointment of a committee [illegible] of Messrs. Boone and Hovey, to meet with a like committee from the house, for the purpose of making arrangements for the two bodies to visit the above places. The resolution, after being read [illegible] times was passed, and a committee appointed consisting of Messrs Ringer, Harris and Abrams.

C B No, 6, relating to printing, was then [illegible] a third time and passed.

The following bills were introduced in the council:

C B No 5, by Mr Blinn, appropriating [illegible] for painting fence of capitol grounds, [illegible] to committee on ways and means.

C B No 4, by Mr Blinn, to [illegible] an act [illegible] providing for public printing and distribution of laws and journals, passed Jan 19 1863. [illegible]

Mr Pickering introduced C. B. No. 7, act to provide for the settlement of the estate of [illegible] A. H. Hinds, deceased, referred to judiciary committee.

Both houses adjourned to meet at 10 A. M. on Monday.

The letter from A. M. Simpson, concerning pilotage and towage, which will be found in another column, should have been published some time ago, but it came to the office in the absence of the editor, on his return [illegible] his attention, in the press of matters which had accumulated, and was overlooked till our attention was called to it again.

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 12 1875

THE OHIO ELECTION TO DAY

To day the most important of all the fall elections will take place, the election in Ohio It is an important election not alone because of the fact that Ohio is one of the most populous of all the sisterhood of States but because the paramount issue of the times is sharply defined in the contest and the decision by the people of that commonwealth cannot but have very considerable weight in determining the course of certain other States and of the nation The Republican ticket is headed by General Rutherford B Hayes for Governor with Thomas L Young for Lieutenant Governor and the Democratic by Governor William Allen for Governor with Samuel F Cary for Lieutenant Governor Two years ago Governor Allen was elected by the very small plurality of 817 votes over ex Governor E F Noyes the Republican candidate Allen at that election received 214 654 votes Noyes 213 837, the Prohibition candidate received 10,081, and an independent candidate, supported by what was facetiously designated at the time as the "Homeless party," 9,971. So there were 20,000 votes thrown away in that contest

The Prohibitionists have a candidate this year Mr Jay Odell but the contest between Allen and Hayes has swallowed up all side issues till it is not likely the prohibition vote will amount to very much in the election to day

Two years ago while Allen was chosen Governor, the Republicans carried all the other officers the majorities ranging from a minimum of 177 to a maximum of 1754

Last year, there being only a Secretary of State to elect Bell the Democratic candidate, carried the State receiving 238,406 votes, to 221 204 for Wikoff, Republican and 7,815 for Buchtel, Prohibitionist.

A PROPER AMENDMENT

An amendment to the State Constitution of Nebraska, about to be voted on forbids any State officer or member of the Legislature from being interested, directly or indirectly during his term of office, in any contract with the State or with any county or town thereof It would seem motives of delicacy and a sense of honor ought to be sufficient to render this positive inhibition unnecessary but it must be admitted that in these latter days motives of delicacy and the sense of honor are rather unreliable barriers against questionable transactions. The period whose statesmen possess the hardihood to enact that a law increasing the salaries attached to their offices, shall be retroactive, commencing at the beginning of their terms, instead of prospective, commencing at the close of their terms, demands something that can be enforced by the forms of law, to prevent a large proportion of its public servants from using their positions as an "open sesame" to fat jobs. The provision proposed to be inserted in the Nebraska Constitution is needed in other States if not in all of them It should be entitled An Amendment to compel State officials and members of the Legislature to pay some respect to common decency as well as common honesty, while in an office"

FRUIT DRYERS

The fruit that will be sent to the fair from the Oregon City manufactory, will present a new source of income to Clackamas county Its fine condition, as the result of good care, as well as a proof of our good soil and climate, will add a new per cent to the worth of our orchards, and to the value of even the rough land for orchards. You, who go to the fair, be sure and examine that fruit put up in its neat glass cases You can see tests of many kinds, and have evidence to the eye better than to the ear alone.

It has been a question for ten years past, what to do with summer and fall apples and pears and even plums. We had no home market. They would not bear shipment, besides, the markets of California were glutted The problem was solved by turning the swine into the orchards, and further solved by allowing the trees, set out twenty years ago, with so much care and cost, to die

Our fruit, which paid so well eighteen years ago, had become a drug. Our choice varieties, so delicious and healthful, were neglected Our trees have grown old by want of care The moss clings to their trunks The dead limbs sends their blight of decay among the living Farms with orchards have been sold at the same rates as those without Immigrants judged the climate to be bad for fruit on account of these dying trees.

But the fruit dryers give a new life to the business and show the farmer that every acre in orchard is worth from $100 to $500 per year to him Apples at the low price of 25 cents per bushel or half a cent a pound delivered pay Mr. Latourette from $100 to $200 per acre of trees this year Pears pay nearly twice as much at three-fourths of a cent a pound Plums pay three times as much at two and three cents per pound Look at the fine pear orchards of Messrs Lovejoy & Strait, near the Clackamas bridge for proof of what the products are per acre Who ever saw such perfect fruit, and so much on trees so small? If one or more of those trees could be photographed and sent to the State fair and to the Centennial they would prove more than the dried fruit the value of our soil and climate for these productions

The Messrs Wallings plum orchard ought to have been photographed for the fair and the Centennial. The fine apple orchards now with their rich golden harvests, ought to be pictured on the silvered plate and held up to the gaze of the thousands who need to see as well as to read and to hear The sight of the eye affects the heart With such facts before the public East and West it will be plain to men that small farms here can support large families and give an annual margin of coin for the savings banks

While trees are growing for five years the ground between them can raise vegetables and pay well Rough side hills can be set full of trees and made almost as valuable as the more level or rolling lands Every inch of a man's farm can be put to profitable use. What he leaves in timber will by its growth pay good interest Orchards nearest the manufactory of course will pay best With plenty of fruit the fowls of his yard will thrive and become a larger source of income Tame as well as wild fowls need and depend upon this kind of food as much as upon seeds. Near as we are to the increasing markets for eggs and poultry our farmers ought to note and reckon the prime value of their fruit orchards to all kinds of fowls Beginning with the currants in April and ending with the last apples that drop in November or early December you will see the feathered tribes picking up not only the insects but feeding and fattening upon the delicate morsels of fruit which they gather or which falls around them They are the scavengers and the protectors of bush and vine and tree, from the multitude of destroying vermin They are in turn protected by the shade and nourished by bushes vines and trees Your little canaries must have their daily slice of apple fresh and juicy and they reward you with the rich trills of song The busy brood so delightful to children and so carefully tended by family pets must have their daily portion of juicy fruits, and they will reward you with nutritious and healthy food and repay you many a dollar per week for your care

How much fruit do you sell per year from these two and a half town lots? was the question put to a friend in Oregon City last Saturday

About one hundred dollars per annum That quince tree pays me every year from five to six dollars Those two small Bartlett pear trees paid me six dollars this year My winter fruit nets a dollar a bushel The fruit and poultry will pay the rent of such a place as this and give a family all they want besides

How is it about the poultry

Some time ago I bought four dollars worth of wheat of the sweepings on the boats and kept account of the eggs sold while it lasted I received twenty five dollars in return and had all the eggs we wanted to use also The hens had free range of the fruit yard which they kept clean of bugs"

Having once owned the same lots the writer can attest a similar class of facts It must be kept in mind that our orchards [illegible] It is said that the hunters of prairie chickens to supply game for Eastern markets have let the grasshoppers destroy the wheat and corn fields of Kansas and Nebraska Safety will be granted only when these birds multiply again A word of wisdom to us in this direction may be for our profit and safety

We write this article to show that our orchards will now pay for care in several ways If it be asked whether the market for dried fruit will continue and extend, we reply that all the evidence we can get assures us that it will. If it is objected that a farmer cannot afford to haul his apples ten miles to a dry house for half a cent a pound we answer that one dry house will be needed for every ten miles of farms That is one will dry all the fruit within a radius of five miles Put up another when you cannot haul your fruit to the one already built The world is the market for dried fruit The freights will become cheaper year by year, and you can be ready with your products of bush, vine and tree to feed the hungry millions A

Venezuela and Holland are apparently on the eve of a rupture, diplomatic relations between them being already suspended The difficulty is there is an "Alabama claim" made by Venezuela on account of the alleged conduct of the Dutch residents of Curacoa, who it is averred, gave aid to an insurrection against the Venezuela government, and by so doing caused a large augmentation of the expense of suppressing the insurrection In anticipation of serious trouble it is reported that Dutch residents of Carraccas the capital of Venezuela are quitting the city and betaking themselves to Dutch or neutral territory This would look decidedly like war in any age but the present, but of late the misunderstandings of nations with one another are generally settled without bloodshed, and the chances are the case of Holland and Venezuela will be disposed of in some peaceable way

To-day the people of Iowa will choose a Governor, Lieutenant Governor Judge of the Supreme Court Superintendent of Public Instruction, half the members of the State Senate and a full House of Representatives The legislature elected to day will choose a U S Senator to succeed Mr Wright. The people of Iowa also vote to-day upon an amendment to the constitution of their State, establishing woman suffrage

At the last election for Governor the Republicans polled 105 122 votes, against 82 564 Democratic

The steamer City of Berlin, of the Inman line completed, on the 20th of September the quickest voyage ever made across the Atlantic from England to New York Her running time was seven days, eighteen hours and two minutes The fastest time previously recorded was by the Germania, of the White Star line which accomplished the voyage in seven days twenty three hours and seven minutes

"Public Justice" sets himself right this morning on the Baker City Bank suspension The whole matter appears to be in a muddle of contradictions, with a strong probability that the bank is in no very good condition and that our correspondent, whom we have always found pretty nearly correct upon questions of fact is not altogether an impartial observer of the situation

The New York papers say every available seat in the vast auditorium of Cooper Institute was filled on the occasion of Theodore Tilton's lecture on the evening of Sept 29th

The people of Nebraska elect to-day Judges of the Supreme Court and Regents of the State University

CITY.

Inquest Held.—Late on Saturday evening an inquest was held over the remains of the colored man Rogers, who accidentally shot himself during the forenoon of that day, from the effects of which he died some hours afterwards. From the testimony of Dr Kinney it appears that the ball penetrated the upper lip, struck one of the front teeth glanced upward through the superior maxillary penetrated the skull between the orbits and lodged in the anterior portion of the brain. After hearing the evidence of the physician and that of several others, the jury returned a verdict of death from the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of deceased. The following persons served as jurors: John B Roberts, F. J Ryan, H N Skinner, John M Laughlin, Geo [illegible] W Rhoades. Deceased it was learned has a daughter residing in the Sandwich Islands, and also a cousin who works on board the steamer California. Rogers was in the habit of depositing his earnings in the First National Bank and in order to place the affairs in order, Mr J B Roberts was appointed administrator of his estate by Judge Woodward yesterday. Mr Roberts will enter upon the duties of administrator as soon as he shall have filed the necessary bonds.

Stage Upset.—From the conductor on the [illegible] train we learn that a serious smash-up occurred on Friday afternoon to the stage which runs between St Joe and Amity. The stage was on the way from St Joe to Amity and about one mile beyond the former place when the accident occurred. Several persons were in the stage three of whom sustained [illegible] injuries, besides the driver. While driving near an embankment the tongue of the stage slipped out and the vehicle rolling over the brink, was capsized before any of the passengers could get out. A man named Jos [illegible] had one leg badly jammed up, and [illegible] ribs on the left side fractured. Another [illegible] named Tutch had his collar bone [illegible] besides sustaining other injuries of a [illegible] nature while an old gentleman [illegible] whose name we have not been able to learn was badly hurt. The driver who was [illegible] in the boot, was hurled headlong to the ground, but fortunately escaped with a few bruises. Considerable delay was occasioned in consequence of the accident but at length the stage was righted, and the injured men were conveyed to where they could be cared for.

[illegible]—During Saturday night some time the store of Barman Bros, in East Portland was entered by burglars. They entered [illegible] a room situated to the rear of the store and [illegible] through the pockets of two pair of trowsers that were hanging on the bed. However, the thieves made a water haul, for but little of any value was found in them. A money drawer was next rifled by the intruders but they were equally unsuccessful as only 25 cents rewarded their labor. [illegible] the light fingered gentlemen [illegible] operations that they did not disturb the [illegible] who occupied the room back of the store. A vest hung at the head of the bed, in the pocket of which was the key of the safe. As luck decreed the vest escaped the vigilant optics of the thieves. Had they found the key, it would have been an easy job to rob the safe. The combination was off and by merely inserting the key the safe-door would have been swung open. After looking about the storeroom for some time, the burglars retired. It was not known that the store had been invaded until Sunday [illegible]

[illegible] at the Fair Grounds.—Persons at the state fair who desire to subscribe for the only newspaper in Oregon can have an opportunity to do so by calling at the [illegible] headquarters in the pavilion [illegible] and accommodating gentleman will always be found behind the desk ready to take your name and coin. Subscriptions either to the Daily or Weekly Oregonian received at the [illegible] headquarters. Immediately upon the arrival of the morning train from Portland, a number of energetic and wide awake [illegible] will commence distributing the paper about the fair grounds thus giving [illegible] to obtain the latest news for [illegible]

Delinquent School Taxes.—Mr G W Mu[illegible], clerk of school district No. 1 advertises in another column that by virtue of a warrant [illegible] by the board of directors he has levied upon and on Thursday the 11th day of November, 1875, will sell at public auction at the court house door in the city of Portland [illegible] state of Oregon a number of [illegible] lots, and parcels of land as [illegible] to pay the taxes due thereon [illegible] gold and silver coin, together with costs of sale and accruing [illegible] who know themselves to be [illegible] would lose no time in calling [illegible] and settling arrears, and [illegible] from sale.

[illegible]—About two weeks ago General Howard and Captain Sladen accompanied by Mr [illegible] B Parrish, agent at the Malheur [illegible], started for that point [illegible] on a tour of inspection [illegible] to assume charge of the reservation. On the return General Howard and his [illegible] to stop at Walla Walla and inspect the post there. At Walla Walla they will be joined by the chief quartermaster of the department, Col R N Batchelder [illegible] They are expected to return to this city about the 20th inst.

Election.—At a regular meeting of the [illegible]ean Literary Society held last [illegible], the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: President D W [illegible]; vice president, Oscar Heintz; recording secretary, W G Steel; corresponding [illegible], H B Nichols; treasurer, Sene[illegible]; censor, S W Rice; editor H N [illegible]; librarian, T O Metzger; sergeant [illegible] Henry Chaffey.

First Patient.—William F Smith was admitted to the Good Samaritan Hospital on Sunday afternoon, the first patient and within [illegible] of the opening of the hospital. He was injured on Saturday in the Oswego [illegible] by the falling of a heavy piece of timber across his body. Dr Strong had him taken at once to the hospital where he is carefully nursed and is doing well though still [illegible]

Telegraph Suspended.—Work on the construction of the new telegraph line between Baker City and Walla Walla has been temporarily [illegible] owing to the exhaustion of the building material. A considerable quantity of wire insulators etc., is now in this city, which will soon be shipped up the Columbia. As soon as the material shall have reached its destination, work will be resumed.

Special Train.—We are requested to state that train No. 2, bound north will leave the fair ground gate at 5 o'clock each evening, arriving at Portland at [illegible] 30. This accommodation will enable persons to see all that is to be seen each day, and sleep at home in this city every night.

Lost.—The person who found a brindle greyhound pup on Front street near the toll gate, on Saturday, will confer a favor by leaving at this office word where he may be found.

Board of Trade. The regular monthly meeting of the Portland board of trade will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at their rooms, Ankeny's building [illegible] o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS

Miss Fannie Marston the young California tragedienne, gave a private rehearsal last evening at Masonic Hall in the presence of a few invited persons. The lady sang at considerable disadvantage but succeeded in impressing the listeners favorably. Miss Marston [illegible] several very difficult [illegible] with ease and much power. Her voice is not harsh but exhibits remarkable [illegible] and a high degree of culture. We understand the lady will appear in this city on Friday evening, in grand operatic and ballad concerts assisted by [illegible] musicians.

Adams & Owens, Front street between Taylor and Yamhill give medicated [illegible] baths which work wonders in curing rheumatism and other chronic diseases.

BRIEF NOTES.

Ho for the state fair.

The great rush is fairward.

Steamer due here this evening.

The river is getting extremely low.

A week of splendid weather is promised.

Great quantities of apples are being brought into the city.

Capt S S Douglass' new ferryboat Albina is making regular trips now.

Fifty tons of telegraph wire for the N N T Co. arrived here on the last steamer from San Francisco.

An unsuccessful attempt to burglarize a dwelling house in East Portland was made last evening.

A portion of F street—south side between First and Second is being filled up preparatory to laying down a sidewalk.

The foliage of the mountain maple and dogwood has doffed the emerald for the rich autumnal hues of scarlet and gold.

Four coaches crowded to overflowing with people went up yesterday morning on the east side road. Salem and the fair grounds were their destinations.

The steamer Alice is lying at the basin Oregon City and will soon be ready for service. The new cylinders cast here sometime ago have been placed in position.

Some people are anxiously casting their optics forward in anticipation of Thanksgiving dinner and have commenced already to talk about roast turkey and plum pudding.

A very successful missionary concert was given at the M E church at East Portland on Sunday evening. The large room was densely crowded and a very attractive and profitable programme was rendered.

Mr Noah Lambert has just commenced a substantial dwelling to cost $4 200. It will be completed by April next. Messrs Porter & Doyle are the contractors and Talbot the architect. It will present a neat appearance and be an ornament to the neighborhood of Columbia and Eighth streets.

CAPITAL NOTES

Fannie Morgan Phelps' troupe open out at Reed's Opera House this evening.

Hart and Bird of circus and Arcadian fame in your city are buzzing around in this neighborhood with an eye to business.

Five sprinklers are kept running night and day between Salem and the fair grounds. The grounds were visited by hundreds yesterday.

Charlie Cole, formerly of the Salem post office, has charge of Wells, Fargo & Co's express at the fair grounds. He will be in attendance at all hours.

F W Ryan of your city has rented a room in Moore's block and opened out an extensive stock of chromos which he intends to close out during the present week.

The young ladies of the M E church are quietly making preliminary arrangements for one of the grandest fancy fairs ever given in this city, of which more anon.

Our streets are literally overflowing with pedestrians and vehicles and Salem merchants—especially grocery dealers—have struck a regular bonanza of trade and traffic.

The hotels are doing a rushing business. The well known Chemeketa is not yet full however while the Commercial is accommodating all who may favor them with a call.

The proudest man for his size in the city is our friend Miles M Miller whose better half presented him with a son on Saturday last. The little fellow pulls the scales at six pounds avoirdupois.

John Wilson's circus is heavily billed to appear in this city this evening and the remainder of the week at the fair grounds. His display of posters is certainly the finest we have ever seen on this coast.

Both hack and and dray companies are running vehicles to and from the fair grounds to say nothing of scores of hacks run by outside parties. Salem in fact has a severe attack of hackaphobia and bussomania just at the present time.

One of the best games of base ball played this season took place on Saturday last in this city. It was a friendly contest between the College and Aldines resulting in the following score: College 21, Aldines 17. The first of the series of games for the championship of the county and the silver mounted bat will take place on Saturday next.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Kilbourn will hold a regular auction sale today at his rooms. A lot of desirable household furniture to be sold.

No household is complete without a sewing machine. When you purchase a machine always buy the best. There is no machine now in use which surpasses the Home Shuttle; never has failed yet to give entire satisfaction; has all the latest improvements and can perform either light or heavy work.

We desire to invite the special attention of the public to the fact that on Saturday Oct 16th there will be a grand reopening of Ackerman's Dollar Store. Since the disastrous fire which occurred some weeks ago the enterprising firm of Ackerman & Oppenheimer have been busily engaged in fitting up new and commodious quarters in the brick building—No 94 First street and 95 Front street—opposite the First National Bank. On Saturday they propose to open out in their new store and will display a large, magnificent, and carefully selected stock of merchandise. Their new stock will consist of plated ware, crockery, glass ware, all kinds of house furnishing goods, toys, fancy goods etc etc all of which have just been imported from the East. They also have on hand an enormous stock just suitable for the holiday trade. Don't fail to give them a call on the opening night and see the grand display.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Robert Small was arrested last evening charged with using abusive language.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning: Frank F Freese drunk and disorderly $5, in jail; Jos Smith using abusive language, $5 paid; Jos J Meagher assault and battery $5 and costs amounting to $27; John Murphy, drunk and disorderly $5 committed to jail three days; McLane disorderly conduct, $5, in jail; Jos Bryan disorderly conduct, $5, committed for three days; Ah Slan, Got Quay, Wong Tom and Yen Geng, four Celestials, for conducting themselves in a disorderly manner, were each fined $5—paid and defendants discharged; Jones drunk $5 paid; Thomas Cunningham disorderly conduct by kicking a Chinaman $10 committed to jail for three days; Ed Bell chamber drunk $5 sent to jail for three days.

What is the use of wearing a plain and poor fitting suit of clothes when you can purchase an elegant one just as easily. All you have to do is to give Beck & Waldman a call, at the corner of Front and Washington streets. They have just received an immense stock of clothing. If you want to buy your boy or yourself a nice suit there is the place to go. They can satisfy you as to fit, quality and price.

The Elmwood and Warwick collars are made differently from any other. The edges are all folded and the surface is an exact imitation of linen.

Parties interested will note advertisement of Mr Walter F Jones, relative to time of accounts due Mr S I Marsh lately in the dry goods business on Front and Stark streets.

The office and warerooms of the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company have been removed to their new building First and Yamhill streets.

The first invoice of fall and winter goods arrived on the last steamer and are now arranged in order so that JOS KOHN'S numerous customers can all at once see all that is new and attractive in the clothing line. The styles displayed are the very latest in the market and must prove quite saleable. Fresh arrivals every steamer selected expressly for the trade by Mr Kohn who knows just what will please his patrons. Call to-day and make your purchases.

Personal.—Mr M Rosenblatt of 79 Front street returned last evening on the John L Stephens from San Francisco with a large stock of Clothing etc for gentlemen and youths. His stock is worthy of inspection by all who desire a first class article. Be sure and call on him and recollect the number.

The Miseries Suffered by the victims of Fever and Ague are permanently removed by Dr Jayne's Ague Mixture a sure cure for all Chills and attending Fevers. Sold everywhere.

Take Ayer's Pills for all the purposes of a purgative for constipation, Indigestion, Headache and Liver Complaint. By universal accord they are the best of all purgatives for family use.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fevers is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above-named drugs both in respect of its composition and the results wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters a purely vegetable preparation which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague and kindred types of malarious disease from the system but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma tainted air and water. These results mineral and antifebrile remedies do not effect with certainty and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The Bitters on the contrary not only afford a speedy relief but establish health on a permanent basis.

"PUBLIC JUSTICE"

"THE BAKER CITY BANK"

BAKER CITY Oct 3 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Inasmuch as you have been lead to believe that the predictions of your correspondent "Public Justice" have proven a failure, and in your issue of the 2th inst say

"Virtue's bank at Baker City has resumed notwithstanding the predictions made by our correspondent, 'Public Justice' to the contrary"

And editorially say that "the creditors are satisfied" and "there is nothing in connection with the failure which should in any degree shake the confidence of the public in Mr Virtue." Your correspondent desires to correct you in the information upon which you base your opinion.

In the first place the bank has not resumed. The creditors are not satisfied. One of the members of the so called advisory committee and a heavy depositor of the concern did not attend the meeting and repudiates the whole transaction. His resumption of business is to the extent of the use of $8 000 for the sole purpose of buying gold dust and carrying on an assay office. Is that a banking business?

Now what about your information from private sources? It came from the same channel—the old Democratic political ring manipulators of affairs and offices and moneys of Baker county of which J W Virtue is the head center. They were the men that manipulated the alleged meeting of the creditors. They are men through the instrumentality of the subsidized old fossil that weekly lie in the interest of Virtue and their party in this county.

His leading editorial last week with the caption "False and Vindictive" in which he attempted to assail "Public Justice" was appropriately named for it was false and vindictive in every essential part and so is every thing nearly that he has written on this bank failure. If he had known who "Public Justice" was he would not have dared to write—no he did not write it—to print it.

Your correspondent has been at some pains to obtain the history of this of [illegible] from Idaho where he was probate judge to his last performances in Portland, when there a few weeks ago, and the public are promised a chapter or two in the near future.

Mr Editor, in what I have written I have no desire to injure Mr Virtue or his business. A bank conducted on legitimate principles is a public benefit. A bank conducted as the Bank of California has been is a public curse—if there is any manifest difference except in magnitude between the two it has not been made perceptible to the public eye. If this vaunted institution has its $251 000 assets why do not the parties in interest publish it to the world instead of these long winded lying editorials that are weekly palmed off on the public. A creditor asked the writer only the day before yesterday how it was that this gentleman had cash to carry on a banking business, when he had publicly announced that he had assigned all of his property for the benefit of his creditors. The whole transaction is tainted with thinness.

The searching power of truth will soon perforate those buncombe resolutions and the public will then know whether it was his accusers who told the truth or

CAUTION!

Having satisfied ourselves that certain dealers are selling inferior goods which they represent as our manufacture, we therefore caution the public against such misrepresentations.

Any person buying goods, sold as OUR MAKE, which should not give satisfaction will confer a favor upon the undersigned by transmitting a sample thereof, together with the name of the firm who sold the same. We will then be enabled to prosecute parties guilty of palming off base imitations for goods of our manufacture.

HASTE

Down the long orchard aisles where I have strolled,
A fragrant sward the slanted sunlight weaves
[illegible] through the [illegible] of plenteous leaves
Its ever tremulous arabesques of gold
In globes of glimmering color sweet to see
[illegible]
Green russet [illegible]
Or yellow as the girdle of a bee.

But o'er the verdure's bloom of shine and shade
[illegible] strown in dull array
Augmenting silently in [illegible] day to day
Gnarled and misshapen worm gnawed and decayed

Ah me [illegible] frustration of intent
[illegible] secret undescribed
[illegible] side by side
With opulence of full orbed accomplishment

Oh [illegible] doubt wherein
The baffled reason gropes and cannot see!

JAY COOKE'S PALATIAL ESTATE SOLD IN DETACHMENTS [illegible]

The sale at Ogontz was continued yesterday and, as usual, attracted a very large attendance, though the visitors were not as a general rule buyers but more curiosity seekers who had come to see the wreck of ancient grandeur The female Marius, in a pin back and Leghorn hat sat upon the ruins of Jay Cooke's Carthage and wondered why she was not as able to effectually ruin a man as stocks and bonds rashly invested in, were It was pitiable to witness the vandalism, the Gothlike rudeness of the buyers of the gaudy hangings, the rich tapestry the furniture inlaid with buhl ormolu ivory and gold A long nosed "dealer" would paw over a choice mosaic or finger with indelicate hands a dainty satin coverlet with all the zeal of a Lombard street pawn broker, while the frowsy dame of some shoddy millionaire would elevate her gold rimmed glasses and criticise a painting with her mouth full of peanuts, the shells of which lie scattered on the beautiful Brussels carpets the smooth walnut stair ways and boudoir floors The echo of the inane merriment of a crew of hoydenish girls fell upon the ear of the art connoisseur like a man's laughter heard in hell," as he strolled through galleries whose walls were adorned with paintings that betokened the taste and refinement of the collector Here was to be found a grand seascape by De Haas full of crimson and gold, the lurid tints of the setting sun there one of Craig's quiet little rustic water colors that drew the mind of the dilettante back to the nooks and corners of the mother country In the main entrance hall upon a Scotch granite pedestal was a bronze figure of Landseer's dying stag Upon one of his horns was a lady's white kid glove, torn and disordered, a sad relic of the prosperity of the old time proprietor of the magnificent mansion In the hot houses a garrulous auctioneer was rapidly disposing of lemon, orange and other trees, orchids, cacti and cryptogramic plants. The few flowers in bloom seemed to perceptibly wilt when the hammer fell, and they were sold for a price that was derisive by reason of its pitiableness Down an avenue bordered on either side by glossy tree encircling beds, where cannas flashed in the sunlight, and verbena heliotrope geraniums and other fragrant flowers made odorous the air, the Times reporter proceeded until he came to the bath house which is fashioned very much after the style of those which excavations lead to the belief were popular in Pompeii Clambering up a most peculiarly constructed ladder in the interior of this edifice he reached a sort of loft through the embrasures of which twined belladonna and Virginia creepers while at his feet was a large square tank once a bath, now containing only a few gallons of stagnant water The whole place was a modern ruin Passing back into the gorgeous palace and ascending the massive black walnut staircase to the uppermost turret, a landscape was revealed that was worthy of Constable's brush Far as the eye could reach rich, undulating meadows fertile fields and glaucous woods were visible the lowing of cattle and the plaintive song of the thrush ascending in curious contrast to the rude hum of the multitude below It was literally sad to pass through the corridors, the boudoirs and ante-chambers of this grand residence, and consider that every article of vertu in it was soon to be scattered, as the fortune of the collector was shattered, recklessly Even the tune a pretty child strummed upon the piano in the theater sounded like a requiem, and not a visitor who was the possessor of good taste left the estate without a feeling of sorrow at heart that so much that was beautiful and grand was being ruthlessly distributed. The sale, taken as a whole, has not proved a pecuniary success. All the most valuable furniture, the finest plants and flowers have not nearly realized a tithe of their primal cost or real value, while a very large portion of the effects of the estate still remain unsold The total amount which the property disposed of brought is not yet known, nor will it be until the auctioneers fix up their accounts —Philadelphia Times Sept 30

The outlook in financial circles is generally regarded with a fair degree of confidence and the present [illegible] do not indicate any serious trouble ahead though we have certainly been fortunate in the past month and a half in being able to pass safely through one of the closest times which Oregon in her commercial history has ever known, and that too with but the slightest injury to her trade interests in any respect This is to be attributed to the very small proportion of the capital of the country which was invested in purely speculative enterprises outside the ordinary channels of legitimate business The trouble being now over business men here can look with satisfaction upon the manner in which they have passed through it and they will not we opine be slow to learn the lessons which it has taught and to profit by them in future

The condition at present is one of a growing tendency toward greater ease in monetary matters though the lenders of capital are still cautious and conservative in their policy accommodating their regular customers in the meantime to the extent of the actual wants of the trade Features of encouragement are noticeable in matters affecting business for the remainder of the autumn and at least an average degree of activity may be looked for with reasonable certainty

Wheat Exports.

The first vessel wheat laden to sail for a foreign port from Oregon this year cleared Feb [illegible] since which time seven other vessels have cleared carrying in the aggregate 9 442 barrels flour and 1 317 103 bushels wheat all of the value of $1 [illegible] Up to and including the bark Ramoltan which cleared Oct. 12th last year seven vessels had cleared in the harvest year carrying 785 barrels flour and [illegible] 84 bushels wheat, valued at $213 607, showing an increase of 8 657 barrels flour and 95 258 bushels wheat in quantity and $253 [illegible] in value this year over the corresponding time in 1874 In the three months of August September and October of last year the shipments of breadstuffs to San Francisco embraced 10 615 bbls flour and 3 454 bushels wheat while the shipments since August 1875, to date, have been 6,690 barrels flour and 138 218 bushels of wheat

The above figures to which we might add a considerable increase which has been made in the shipments of flour especially to the ports to the northward, show a movement of the grain crop much larger than is generally supposed to have been made this year and quite as large as could have been expected under the circumstances of a close money market

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Oriflamme from San Francisco will be due to morrow evening

The schooner Oregonian is receiving a deck load of lumber at the North Portland mills

The barkentine Portland is discharging freight at Flanders wharf

The Br bark Blanche is loading wheat at Allen & Lewis wharf and will finish in a few days

The Br ship City of Perth is discharging ballast at Greenwich dock She is under charter to Messrs Allen & Lewis to load wheat for Europe on terms reserved.

SEATTLE Homestead Association.

A Rare Chance for Profitable Investment.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE RAPIDLY ACCUmulating interests and greatly increasing population property in the city of Seattle is held at prices regarded as exhorbitant, and in order to meet the demands of persons of small means seeking homes the SEATTLE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION has been organized composed of some of the most responsible men of that section Tracts of land in the city and extending to the borders of Lake Washington have been secured surveyed and platted and 3000 lots 60 feet by 120 feet each have been placed on the market for distribution and are now offered for the small sum of $87 for each lot, payable monthly in six installments without interest. A lot is thus placed within the reach of every one who may desire to purchase

In 1868 Seattle had a population of only 700 now 3 000 A large number are daily seeking tenements and find great difficulty in procuring them though buildings are going up in all directions the demand is still for more. The city of Seattle is beautifully situated on Elliott Bay Puget Sound It has fine natural advantages and great resources with a most promising future The three Coal Deposits now being worked with indifferent facilities by three different companies, called respectively the "Seattle" "Renton" and "Talbot" are producing 600 tons of Coal daily, which does not supply the demand. The manufacture of lumber is also an important and profitable business Ship building is an active industry, with other mechanical and useful occupations encouraging to the investment of capital and labor Two opposing lines of Steamships direct to San Francisco, afford annual facilities for freight and passage every week, Seattle is destined to be the Portsmouth of the Pacific Coast Her material resources are inexhaustible Her Iron Coal and Timber the three great commercial staples, alone will make capital tributary to her interests The valleys of the White Black and Cedar rivers tributaries of the Duwamish river which empties into the harbor at Seattle will support a large agricultural population

Lake Washington, 20 miles in length and from 2 to 5 miles wide is about two miles in a direct line from the waters of the sound It is the intention of the incorporators of this Association whose standing in community is a guaranty [illegible] to open immediately an Avenue 80 feet wide extending from the bay directly east through the Homestead lands to Lake Washington in which charming locality will be erected the mansions of her business men The Avenue will be properly graded paved and sidewalks laid at an expense of $5 000 and will constitute the chief drive and promenade from Seattle to the Lake It will run along the City Park the College grounds and Lake View Park Lots on either side will command at least four fold the price paid The Association will erect buildings for a First Class Hotel at the east end of the Avenue on Lake Washington Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Company

When all the lots are subscribed for the distribution will be made The Choice of lots, including the Hotel will be sold at public auction and the subscribers and the proceeds be divided equally among them Due notice of the time and place of sale will be made Warranty deeds based on a United States patent will be issued to subscribers without charge

Let no one doubt the future growth of Seattle Nature has placed her in a position to realize the benefits of an immense trade Her port is always open; neither ice nor shifting sand bars impede navigation No pilotage or river towage to add to her freights Clear sailing all the year round from her harbor to the ocean Consider this matter carefully Think too what San Francisco was in 1851 what chances of a competency were lost in [illegible] the future growth of that magnificent city [illegible] can attest Chicago in 1831 was but a small town to day a great city the admiration of the [illegible] this opportunity slip The small sum of $75 payable monthly without interest, [illegible] make you comfortable and be a good [illegible] to your children There can be no other investment requiring so small an amount of money that can secure such ample benefits
